

Accurate Thinking Exercise

Three-Column Approach

Directions: Write the negative thoughts from each scenario in the first column. Identify the Thinking Errors and write them in the second column. Write accurate thoughts in the third column to replace the negative thoughts.

1. You've been trying to diet. This weekend you've been nervous, and, since you didn't have anything to do, you've been nibbling. After your fourth piece of candy, you tell yourself, "1. I just can't control myself. 2. My dieting and jogging all week have gone down the drain. 3. I must look like a balloon. 4. I shouldn't have eaten that. 5. I can't stand this. I'm going to pig out all weekend!" You begin to feel so guilty you push another handful of candy into your mouth in an aborted effort to feel better. (Refer to page 1 problem 4 of the Thinking Error Exercise worksheet)
